Tartar Backfield Sleeps Through Three Quarters as Normans Win

By JACK BALDWIN

Often a bridesmaid but seldom a bride—that's Torrance. For the sixth consecutive time the Tartar Varsity has out-downed their opponent and for the third consecutive time, lost the ball game.

Last Friday afternoon on the Beverly Hills turf the Tartar backfield slept through three quarters (as did most of the fans) while the Normans tromped them 26-13. It was not until the fourth quarter that the Tartars awakened to find themselves losing the game.

You'll Need No Indian Guide

You'll require no Indian guide to lead you to the Torrance-Leuzinger game Friday night if you drive North on Prairie avenue to Rosecrans avenue and turn West on Rosecrans for four blocks. School is located at 4118 Rosecrans avenue.

Game time is 8 p.m.

Not once, but boom, Boom, BOOM, three times the Tartar backfield let the Normans get behind them to snag a touch down pass. Gil Bray, as though he was knee-deep in an oil su-up, and did not move toward the receiver until he had made the catch. He was not the only one, however. Dave Bishop and Boyd Crawford did the same thing. Dick Turner, best utility man on the squad, almost fell over backward as he watched the ball go directly overhead while he trotted backward like he was running a potato-sack race at the county fair.

Coaches Eddie Cole and Rex Welch were both warned by the referee for coaching from the sidelines when they told the backfield to back up for passes. The Torrance line was complimented by the Beverly coach who came to the dressing room after the game to tell them that they were the best and strongest line that Beverly had met so far this season. Dominick Donatoni, especially, turned, in a fine job.

The timekeeper must have used an alarm clock instead of a gun to end the third quarter, for it was only then that the backfield opened their eyes to see what was happening to them. When they did find out they really caught fire.

Goettsch, benched earlier in the week because of an injury, went in head first and practically stayed that way until he had run up eight first downs and two touchdowns. Never breaking away for any of the long gains that have been expected of him, he did manage to plug, plow and plunge at the line until he removed the goose egg from the Torrance side of the score board. Grossman of Beverly came back and pitched one of the four passes over the heads of the Tartar backfield to Ronnie Chez, who went over for the final Norman tally.

LOCAL FISHING

Big Bear—Trout fishing still slow, although a few nice ones were taken recently at the upper end of the lake still fishing. Crappie and bluegill fishing just fair.

Lake Henshaw: Very few bass being caught, but crappie and bluegill are being brought in every day. Weather foggy and cool today.

Lake Arrowhead: Good fishing continues at this popular spot. Many near limits are being taken daily.

It is illegal to fish for catfish at night except in the Colorado River area, reports the California Division of Fish and Game.

Tarbabes Still Seeking 1st Win

By GEORGE WHITING

Still seeking their initial league win, Torrance High School's Bee team travels to Leuzinger this afternoon.

Although the Tarbabes looked good several times in the Beverly Hills game last week, the Olympians are favored because of their one-sided victory over an Inglewood team which beat the locals.

Leuzinger's largest threat lies in a strong passing attack. Making it six in a row, Beverly's power-laden Bees thoroughly throttled Torrance's peewees Thursday on the loser's turf, 39-19.

Small speedy scatback Mal Crosby was high scorer as he slithered through the Tartar defense for 12 points.

After spotting the Normans

19 points the locals came to life with Roy Swigart hitting Tom

Winter Trout Limits Told

Although October 31 marked the end of California's summer trout, salmon, and rocky mountain white fish season, anglers will be able to try their luck on winter runs of steelhead trout and salmon beginning November 1, reports the Bureau of Patrol, Division of Game and Fish.

Wardens this month sighted large numbers of sea-run trout and salmon returning to their coastal streams and inland river spawning areas, with indications of a generally good winter season.

In the following named waters, a bag limit of three trout or salmon in the aggregate will apply between November 1, and January 31.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY
Malibu Creek, from mouth upstream two miles to dam.
Rio Hondo River, from mouth to valley boulevard bridge.
Big Tujunga River, from mouth to Hansen Dam.
San Gabriel River, from mouth to Valley boulevard bridge.

QUARANTINE NEAR END
A state-wide quarantine on mussels will be in effect until Oct. 31, according to the Division of Fish and Game.

United We Stand-

A great contest has ended. The people have had their say as to who shall be President of these United States. Radios have blared, presses roared. The political orators grew hoarser—day by day.

But the tumult and the shouting have died, and the great wheels of American industry still roll on. Our thoughts turn back to our jobs. Pretty girls are still pretty and the boys still whistle as they pass. Kids still choose up sides in the sand lots, and we still have the weather and a thousand other things to argue about.

You had your own opinion who should occupy the White House come January, 1949. You probably formed that opinion like a good American, after studios, solemn thought. The next four years will mean a lot to our country—to you and yours and everything you have worked for and hoped for in life. We trust the choice of our President will prove to be a wise one.

Good Americans will accept that choice as the mandate of the people and will give our Chief Executive their full confidence and support. To be strong, a nation must be united. Your government needs your help.

Republican, Democrat, Progressive—whatever your politics may be
